ANOTHER VICTORY

GALLAUDET DEFEATED.

Honors to Galt, Maxey, Brooks, Crafts and Sommers—Silent Spectators in Grandstand.

After a hard fought game, last Saturday, George Washington defeated Gallaudet, 16 to 6. It was one of the prettiest contests seen on the local gridiron this year, and the victory won by our team was well earned.

The game was marred by repeated wranglings with the officials, dragging on till darkness put an end to it. None of the officials seemed to realize that they were there to umpire the game, and that their word was law. The Mutes took advantage of this, especially on their three-yard line where the game was delayed some 15 minutes before they could be convinced a recovered fumble by our men gave us first down.

From Saturday's contest a somewhat reliable opinion of George Washington's efficiency can be gleaned. They have had a good month in which to develop, and show to some extent the result of constant practice. Every game exhibits an improvement over the preceding, and that of Saturday is no exception. The forward pass has been mastered to a degree quite unexpected by those who have watched the practice since the beginning; the inside kick and the line work have improved wonderfully.

But there are still many points which will have to be learned carefully before George Washington can hope to go against the well-trained Georgetown eleven with any ideas of success. Espe-

GRADUATE MANAGER EDWARD C. WILSON

Entered the Medical Department of the University in 1903, and served as Vice-President of his class. Was graduated to President the next year. Elected manager of the football team 1906 for his all around ability. Put the athletic interests of the University on their feet by successful application to his work, and turned in a working balance, which, unfortunately, the baseball team consumed. Was elected Graduate Manager the present year, and is pursuing his duties with the same energy and ability which has marked all his college work.

cially must better interference be developed. Not only Gallaudet, but every team that has been at Van Ness Park this year, had this most essential element of team work far better executed than our boys. And further, the men are too easily caught by trick plays, which on more than one occasion have been practically the same as the team itself uses.

In addition the backs fail to break up the plays as they should. Time and again, last Saturday, Gallaudet ends and backs struck our ends, with their interference practically unbroken, making it almost impossible for our ends to reach their men, before a good gain was secured.

In following the ball there is much to be learned. It is hard to see why the vast majority of fumbles made on Saturday were secured by Gallaudet, when our men either were or should have been right after the ball. All these delinquencies can and must be remedied within the next two weeks, and that feeling of over-confidence which was only too plainly evident against Gallaudet, should be lost in the woods somewhere where it can't be found again till after the Georgetown game.

Several of the men showed up brilliantly last Saturday, which easily disproves the statement of one of the daily papers that George Washington had no stars. Galt, the new quarter, is unquestionably a find of the first water. His quick, snappy work and his clever dodging in running back punts were a revelation to the spectators. Maxey, at right half, was, at last, in the position he belongs. He seemed to be the only one who could circle the end for consistent gains, in several instances advancing the ball 20 or more yards. As this young man is only a Freshman he has a great future before him in University athletics.

Jack Brooks deserves particular mention for his excellent work both on defense and offense. Gallaudet found his end invulnerable, his fast aggressive plunging, breaking up plays repeatedly. In the forward passes he proved good for ten or more yards on every attempt, making a touchdown at the end of the game by this method.

Crafts and Sommers played the usual steady game which their work has led the rooters to expect, the former making two of Washington's three touchdowns. Witten has become more acquainted with his position as fullback, and in addition to his good playing reeled off some excellent punts, one in particular going almost 50 yards.

The visitors outweighed George Washington but were not as quick. Howser and Mosey, the ends, and Sharp, the full, starred for the Mutes, the former pair making consistent gains. Gallaudet tried several tricks, a fake kick, converted into a forward pass, in particular. Had our quarter played closer to the line of scrimmage this play would not have worked as often as it did.

Gallaudet's lone touchdown was made after securing the ball on one of our forward passes in the center of the field, and rushing it over by end runs and line plays. Our goal was in danger in the second half when the Mutes had the ball on our 20-yard line, but unsuccessful forward passes prevented a touchdown.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

A marked improvement in the rooting was noticeable in Saturday's game. The "Rooters' Club" was out in force and gave evidence that its organization filled a much needed want. Yet is it a physical impossibility for a small band of youths to keep up the yelling for an entire game without the help of others. Much has been written in this paper about the need of more support for the men who are struggling hard to gain this University a name in athletics, and the students have in a small way shown their interest.

To those who have been and are unable to attend the games what has been written naturally does not apply; but there are a number who do attend the games, and who feel that it will ill accord with their dignity to join the rooters in making some noise. This is evident in their posture and in the discouragement which some have been known to give towards yelling. What their reasons or ideas may be are not easily found, but it would be interesting to know why such men as Cutler, Hemmick, King, Alden, Davis, Acker, Lasley, Marsh and others saw fit to be silent spectators of the game with Gallaudet.

The football players are unanimous in saying that the encouragement given by University men is a large element in winning their games; thus men who fail to give this support should realize that they are working towards our defeat when they remain silent.

THE GEORGETOWN GAME.

Graduate Manager Wilson has turned over to the newspapers all the correspondence relative to the Georgetown-George Washington football game. From the letters it appears that Georgetown is willing to play the game the Saturday before Thanksgiving on an equal division of receipts, but still holds aloof as regards Thanksgiving.

The agreement entered into in 1905 provides for a game subsequent to November 14th, and on this basis Georgetown claims that any date after this is allowable. But the agreement provides further that conditions once made cannot be changed except by unanimous consent. It was decided last year that the game should be played Thanksgiving, and since then no change in the date has been unanimously agreed upon. On this point Georgetown contends that the agreement to play Thanksgiving held for last year only. Yet it is difficult to reconcile this with the terms of the original agreement.

And further, as Graduate Manager Wilson wrote, Georgetown schedules and University publications have announced the game to take place Thanksgiving, the schedule sent by Georgetown to the newspapers announced the game for that date and finally Manager Fitzgerald, in his letter to Manager Ball, referred to the game as "our game on Thanksgiving Day."

Therefore, the date of the game as expressed by Georgetown, as expressed by the daily papers, and as understood by the general public, has been Thanksgiving Day. In the face of these facts Georgetown can only appear ridiculous in attempting to dictate terms.

REPORT OF MEETING OF COLUMBIAN DEBATING SOCIETY, HELD NOV. 8.

President McClellan called the meeting to order at 8:15 p. m. The question for debate was, "Resolved: That a permanent commission be appointed with exclusive control of the fixing and adjusting of tariff rates. The upholders of the affirmative of the proposition were Messrs. Van Vleck, Bensted and Hupper. Messrs. Jordan, Rehr and Gates upheld the negative.

While the judges were considering their verdict the debate was thrown open to the house and many members took part therein. The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative with first and second honors to Messrs. Hupper and Gates respectively.

Professor Veditz closed the meeting by bespeaking the help of all members for carrying on inter-collegiate debates, of which there is to be a number during the coming year.

F. H. T.

THE NEEDHAM DEBATING SOCIETY.

The debate at the last meeting of the Needham Society was full of life and interest from start to finish. In fact, it proved to be the best and most helpful one held this fall. Many of the members took advantage of the new rule concerning the general debate and spoke effectively and to the point on the question. Those who were assigned to the regular debate were Messrs. C. A. Sunderlin and Spinks, on the affirmative, and Messrs. Nyemaster and A. D. Phillips on the negative. The judges were Messrs. Ambrose, Kennedy and Horner. The subject for debate was, "Resolved, That the Federal ownership and operation of telegraph lines would best subserve the interests of the people of the United States. The decision was rendered for the speakers on the negative and first and second honors were awarded to Messrs. Sunderlin and Spinks, respectively. The general vote of the Society was also in favor of the negative.

Professor Veditz called during the meeting and gave some very practical criticisms on the debate, and some valuable hints. The purpose of his visit, primarily, was to outline to the Society some of the plans for coming inter-collegiate debates this year, and the indications are that several of these contests will be arranged, which will give the students of the University plenty of opportunity to make use of the experience and training they have been acquiring in the debating societies. A return challenge has already been received from the University of North Carolina which will, in all probability, be accepted.

The following question has been selected for the debate for next week:

"Resolved, That Congress should pass a divorce law, uniform in its provisions for the different States."

POLITICAL SCIENCE

The second meeting of the students of the College of the Political Sciences was held, as scheduled, last Thursday evening, over half the members attending.

Upon the call of the temporary chairman, Mr. Tenney, the committee appointed to draw up a tentative plan of organization submitted the following:

I. That the temporary chairman be empowered to appoint a committee of three to draw up a constitution; that the Dean of the College, Dr. Veditz, be an ex-officio member.

II. That this committee be instructed to draw up a constitution broad enough to permit of lectures, addresses, debates, orations, papers, reports and occasional social functions.

III. That active membership within the University be restricted to students matriculated in the College of the Political Sciences, and the members of the faculty.

IV. That the committee on the constitution report one week from tonight, and that following the adoption of the constitution we proceed immediately to organization under its terms.

V. We suggest the following name: "The Public Service Club of the College of the Political Sciences of The George Washington University."

(Signed) O. E. MUELLER, Sec'y.
SETH T. BOWEN,
SELDEN M. ELY.

Clauses I, II, and IV were adopted as presented. Clause III, however, was the subject of considerable discussion, resulting in an amendment whereby such other persons as may care to join may be admitted to membership upon receiving a two-thirds affirmative vote of the active members of the organization. The adoption of the name suggested in Clause V was also postponed pending the consideration of any other suggestions which may be made.

A committee to draw up the constitution was then appointed, consisting of Mr. Tenney, Mr. Bowen and Mr. Lewis. This constitution will be presented at a meeting to take place Thursday evening, November 14th, at 8 o'clock, and if adopted an election of officers will take place under its terms.

It is the desire of those interested in this organization that the entire enrollment of the new College be present at this meeting. One of the first acts of the organization will be to arrange for the address which is to be given under its auspices by Hon. William Jennings Bryan, and it is important, therefore, that the society be in thorough running order before November 23rd, on which evening Mr. Bryan will deliver this address in University Hall. Arrangements are also being made looking toward securing other prominent speakers during the winter to address the student body.

As an evidence of the world-wide reputation which the new College is acquiring, it may be mentioned that Dr. Veditz recently received an inquiry relative to the courses offered from a young man in Guiuan, Samar, Philippine Islands. Has President Needham given any thought to the establishment of a chair in colonial administration? We have some hundreds of young Americans in our colonial possessions who are saving money to complete their educations upon return to the States, and many of them would welcome an opportunity to take a course in this subject.

SOCIAL LIFE.

Washington City Rho Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon General Fraternity opened its spacious parlors to over 75 college people and their friends, at the chapter house, 2024 G street, last Thursday evening, November 7th. The event was the autumn number of a series of musicales to be given during the college year. An enjoyable program was arranged, among the numbers being a piano selection, Lorelei, Op. 2, by Miss Wheatley; Sans Toi, sang by Mr. Phil Scantling (Law '08); violin solos, Andante, Op. 14, and "The Bee," by Miss Eugenie De Guerin; "Ode to a Fraternity Brother" (composed for the fraternity by Brother Scantling); piano solo "Serenade," Op. 8 n. 3, Miss Wheatley; "Bedouin (Be do'in) Love Song," rendered by Dr. Charles Watson (Medical '07), etc.

At 10:30 light refreshments were served followed by dancing, which lasted until midnight. Announcements of future dates will be made in The Hatchet. Admission by card.

On Hallowe'en night, October 31, Pi Beta Phi Fraternity gave a dance in honor of Delta Tau Delta at the home of Miss McLeod, 1347 Girard street. The decorations were in yellow and purple, the colors of Delta Tau and the large pumpkin with a beautiful purple bow on top was most effective. During the evening there were some rousing fraternity songs by both the men and girls. It was only with regret that the gay dancers heard the strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

ARCHITECTURE.

The Freshmen class in the five orders completed drawing and rendering their first problem, judgment and criticism being given by Prof. Ash Tuesday.

The results were as follows:

First Mention—L. H. Russell.

Second Mention—R. S. Hart.

Third Mention—W. A. Gebicke.

Honorable Mention—R. B. Blackley.

There were nineteen drawings in the exhibition and they were all considered good for the first work, the winners being especially good.

Two men of this division, namely, Messrs. Witten and Hooten, are doing good work in the football squad. They may be seen to leave their drawing boards punctually at a certain hour in the afternoon to get to the field and will stop work at their boards any time to talk football. It seems they are making good. They are strong, steady men.

The G. W. U. Architectural Club held a meeting Wednesday night and perfected arrangements for equipping the club room. This matter will be carried through by the committee as soon as possible. The room will be attractively finished in mission style, will be decorated with the college colors and drawings and will be an excellent place for meetings, entertainments and recreation.

An entertainment and smoker will be held by the Club about Thanksgiving time.

Twelve new members were elected at the above meeting. The Club is growing fast.

Silence doesn't necessarily mean death. Although the Junior Class has been quiet for so long it has at last aroused and elected its class officers. The election took place at the class meeting held Tuesday evening, October 29th. The following officers were elected: President, E. M. W. Bear; Vice-President, W. H. Barnhard; Secretary and Treasurer, B. C. Marsh; Class Editor, C. Q. Cannon. The success of the class is assured with such an efficient corps of officers. During the meeting a great many points of interest were discussed. The Honor System was voted upon and every man in the class pledged himself to support it.

Although small in numbers, we feel large in spirit. Nothing but harmony has existed in the Junior Class since we were initiated into the University as Freshmen and we are in hopes that this class will always be characterized by the love each student entertains for the other.

Dr. Wolff was very complimentary in some of his remarks pertaining to work which our class has been doing. All right, Doctor; we thank you, and hope to be able to continue our good work. It is so much easier to work when we realize that our efforts are appreciated.

We are pleased to see that Charles Irby is now enabled to attend the lectures regularly.

We were all very much pained to hear of our classmate "Bill Barnhard" being detained from school on account of sickness. We are glad to see that he has now recovered and is able to meet again with us in classes.

Max Goldberg has decided to make the swedging of gold plates his specialty when he begins practice; while Irby has decided upon extracting.

The boys are all very much pleased with the good fair treatment they are receiving in all of their classes this year.

The great question that is now being asked in our class is: "When, oh when, will we commence swedging our german silver plates?" In a few weeks the question will be: "When, oh when, will we finish swedging our german silver plates?" Don't lose courage, fellows; the old maxim (if at first you don't succeed, try, try again) still holds good.

It is with a great deal of pleasure and interest that we welcome such a large class of Freshmen to the Dental Department. Boys, judging from your appearance, your success is assured.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Pennsylvania is the first big team to start plays in which the linemen are used to carry the ball. Cornell made more than 200 yards by working successful forward passes against Oberlin Saturday.

George Brooke will be in a unique position Saturday. He is one of the coaching directors at the University of Pennsylvania, and is also the head coach at Swarthmore, and his team will meet the Quakers this week.

Wheaton, the Yale half-back, who was hurt in the Syracuse game, received his injury from being tackled high and hard by a Syracuse player, who dived at him from a distance of at least 10 feet.

It has been announced by the railroads that no special cars will be furnished for the Princeton-Yale and Harvard-Yale games. This will put an end to the most delightful way of taking the trips for the championship contests.

As yet everything is in suspense, but some players have been already picked for the All-American joke team.

Macklin and Townsend are two Penn players who have been showing remarkable form, and both should make the team.

George Washington is true
To the dear old Buff and Blue.
Every college has its flag, but ours is best,

22. Tune: So Long Mary.

So long, Georgetown, we really hate to see you go;
So long, Georgetown, how we hate to beat you so;
We are ready for you, Georgetown,
Let her go;
So long, Georgetown,
Wake up, you're a bit too slow.

23. Tune: You're a Grand Old Rag.

You're a grand old team,
You're the lads with the steam,
And you're wearing the colors so true.
You will rip up their line like a Russian mine!
Old Georgetown, it's up to you!
Nail the foe in his tracks!

We're gathered now, my fellows, to join this happy throng,
To pluck from Georgetown's glory the victories she has won;
To cheer our fearless players by every yell and song,
And now's the time to do your best for old George Washington.

Chorus.

Oh, Alma Mater O!
Oh, Alma Mater O!
But ere we start we'll give a yell
for
Alma Mater, O!

27. THE BUFF AND BLUE.

Tune: Auld Lang Syne.

I.

From study and library
And hall and campus, too,
Let class-men all come loyally,
To cheer the Buff and Blue;
In happy hours and moments gay,
All else we must eschew,
While in our love, we homage pay,
To dear old Buff and Blue.

CHORUS.

Come, come, let every loyal one,
With hearts and voices true,
Cheer, cheer, for old George Washington,
And for the Buff and Blue.

II.

Our Fathers in the C'lonial Day,
That long, hard struggle through,
These colors wore in ev'ry fray,
'Till vict'ry was their due,
And now that many years have passed,
And their great work is done,
Their leader's will, while time shall last,
Lives in George Washington.

Our Business is Tailoring

Gilbert

Our specialty is tailoring for young men—Why don't you try us?

We have been in the tailoring business long enough, and have turned out a class of work good enough to convince thousands of prudent men that GILBERT tailoring presents the reasonable solution of the problem of correct dress at the RIGHT PRICE.

III.

In every contest we will go,
With resolution true,
That whosoever be the foe,
We'll win for Buff and Blue;
And if against us luck should be,
Our hopes will rise anew,
If but across the sky we see
Our colors, Buff and Blue.

IV.

Wherever on this earth go we,
Whatever we may do,
Our hopes, our aims, our trust will be
To honor Buff and Blue,
And when the time to part draws near,
Before our last adieu,
We'll join our hands, again to cheer
The royal Buff and Blue.

28. Tune: Heidelberg.

Here's to our Alma Mater dear,
Here's to the Buff and Blue,
Here's to her students from far and near
Sturdy and staunch and true;
Here's to our team that plays football,
Ready for work or fun,
Here's to our college, the best of all—
Here's to George Washington.

George Washington, George Washington,
Thy students ne'er forget;
The golden haze of student days
Is 'round about us yet.
Those days of yore will come no more,
But through the future years
The thought of you, Oh Buff and Blue,
Will fill our eyes with tears.
The thought of you, Oh Buff and Blue,
Will fill our eyes with tears.

29. GEORGIUS WASHINGTON.

Tune: Yale Boole.

George Washington was a fine old man,
He's our Almus Pater-ah;
He lived down on the Po-to-mac
Near Alexandria.
He lived a great and stormy life
For many, many years,
So to our ex-post facto dad
We'll give three rousing cheers.

CHORUS:

Georgius Washington, Georgius Washington,
Primus in pace
Primus in bello;
Georgius Washington, Georgius Washington,
Et in cordibus
Civium.

George Washington knew a thing or two,
He was a college man;
He built a university
Upon a noble plan.
This Uni. is the real, real thing,
For we are IT, you see;
If dear old George could see us now
How happy he would be.

NOTE.—The music to the next two songs has been composed by Mr. Frank Smith. An effort will be made to publish it in our next issue.

30.

I.

There's a University in town,
George Washington's its name,
Where the studs. take after George of Revolutionary fame.
When they play old Georgetown in the fall
Upon the gridiron,
The way the fellows "hit it up"
You'd think they'd burst a lung.

CHORUS:

Hail, oh hail, Ye Hatchetites,
Every mother's son?
We're due to lick old Georgetown
'Ere the day is done. Rah, rah, rah!
Every man play football;
Play to make things hum;
To make old Georgetown stand and say—(whistle).
I guess that's going some.

II.

Now you may be quite a scholar,
And a literary shark.
But in football time, just take my tip,
Be sure and keep it dark.
What we want are men of muscle,
And we've got 'em here to yell—
(Spoken.)
Come, fellows, get to work now;
Give old Georgetown —.

Now it isn't only football,
Or basket ball or track;
We can beat them at their own games,
And pass them coming back.
Take, for instance, marbles, rolling hoops,
Or spinning tops and such,
When challenged to compete in these
We're sure to beat the—Irish.

Hail, Oh hail, Ye Hatchetites,
Every mother's son;
We're sure to lick the Irish,
All or any one. Let every
Man wind tight his top string,
Roll his hoop with vim,
Just as he did
When but a kid,
And Georgetown can't keep up with him.

31. RALLY SONG.

And so it's everybody up, George Washington;
Hurrah for the Buff and Blue,
We've got an axe for Georgetown,
And they'll be sorry when they are through, rah, rah, rah.
Everybody up, George Washington;
Cheer our team anew,
For we've come here to win
And we are wading right in;
Old Georgetown, it's up to you.

Tailoring Headquarters For College Men

GILBERT

925 F Street N. W.

In point of merchandise, variety of styles of dependable character, value for price, and liberality to customers, we have determined that no store shall surpass us.

If you have never tried a GILBERT tailored suit, the amount of smart tailoring, fit, and correct style in one of our $25 or $30 suits will be a revelation to you.

Stop in and find out more about them. You incur no obligation, whatsoever, by viewing them, and, whether you buy or not, you are likely to get an idea or suggestion that will at some future time be of value to you.

32. Tune: Cheyenne.

Play ball! Play ball!
Our team's a dandy!
Our line's a stone wall,
They are the candy, candy.
And when down the field,
Our backs come so handy,
You'll see how we play football.

33. Tune: Tammany.

Washington, Washington;
What're you going to do today?
Show 'em you are here to stay.
Washington, Washington;
Ram 'em,
Slam 'em,
Jam 'em,
Damn 'em.
Washington.

Varsity, Varsity,
Give us one more victory;
Put it down in history,
Varsity, Varsity;
Meet 'em, beat 'em,
Overheat 'em,
Varsity.

Georgie U! Georgie U!
Urah, rah, rah,
Washington!
Urah, rah, rah,
Washington!
Georgie U! Georgie U!
Smash 'em!
Bust 'em!
That's our custom
Georgie U!

34. Tune: My Old Kentucky Home.

Weep no more, poor Georgetown,
Oh, weep no more today.
We will sing once more
Of how Georgetown didn't score,
Of how Georgetown didn't score, didn't score.

35. Tune: Waltz Me Around Again, Willie.

Oh, here's where we rush poor old Georgetown
Around, around, around;
Our team is a fighter, 'twill beat Georgetown's 'leven
And wipe them all over the ground!
The way the team plays clearly shows it's our day,
We feel just like shouting out loud "Hip-hooray!"
Oh, here's where we rush poor old Georgetown
Around, around, around.

Oh, here's where the touchdowns for our team
Abound, abound, abound.
Our quarterback's dashes and long forward passes
Are always sure gainers of ground.
The Georgetown line cracks with the whack of our backs,
We feel just like shouting out "Give 'em the axe."
Oh, here's where we rush poor old Georgetown
Abound, abound, abound.

36. Tune: Budweiser.

Dear Georgetown is a friend of mine,
Friend of mine, a friend of mine.
On Thanksgiving we hear them whine
Poor old Georgetown.

They learn football out of a book,
Let's get the hook, go get the hook.
Drive it in quick
In some place it will stick
Georgetown is a friend of mine.

37. Tune: For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

When e'er on the field we meet, sir,
We take Georgetown by the feet, sir,
For they will be our meat, sir;
We'll drive Georgetown away.

CHORUS:

We'll drive Georgetown away,
We'll drive Georgetown away.
We'll take them by the hair, sir,
And fling them in the air, sir.
Their mothers do not care, sir,
To see them pass away.

They say they're not afraid, sir,
To meet us in our raid, sir.
In cold, cold ground they're laid, sir;
Poor Georgetown's gone away.

38. Tune: My Maryland, My Maryland.

George Washington, George Washington,
Washington, George Washington,
George Washington, George Washington,
Washington, George Washington.
George Washington, George Washington,
Washington, George Washington,
George Washington, George Washington,
Washington, George Washington.

39. Tune: Dixie.

Founded by the Father of his Country,
That is why we're called George
Washington; Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah!
A tiny thought it started, then
It grew and grew till now it's George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah!

CHORUS:

Then give a cheer for Washington.
Hooray! Hooray!
We'll raise a song to help along
The team of dear George Washington.
Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah! for Washington.

We'll do them once and we'll do 'em again;
We'll show what stuff we have at George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah!
We'll jump right in and fight like men,
We'll show what spirit we have at George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah!

40. Tune: Why Don't You Try?

Do you think that you will beat us,
Do you think that we will yield,
Do you think that you could hurt us
If you tried that on the field?
Do you think that you can hold us
In the sweet, sweet bye and bye?
If you think that you can scare us,
Why don't you try— What!
Why don't you try?

EDITOR:
Seniors, '08, M. A. Foxen.

ASSISTANT EDITORS:
Miss Irene Richardson, '09;
Freshmen, '10, J. D. Hogan.

It is not because we consider ourselves possessed of excessive erudition; it is not because we, as upper classmen, consider ourselves superior; nor is it because we desire to assume the role of dictator to the lower classes, that we address these lines to the Juniors and Freshmen of the N. C. P. We do so in the interest of the school in general, and of the Classes of '09 and '10 in particular.

The Juniors, while very well represented among the subscribers to The Hatchet, are not supporting their editor as they should. The Freshmen are just the opposite. While they are doing very well in the way of literary contributions to their branch of The Hatchet, their percentage of subscribers is the lowest in the school. Come, Juniors! Come, Freshmen! Rouse a little class and school pride! Support your class editors as they should be supported! See that your class is as well represented on the subscription list of The Hatchet as it is in its columns. It is not a hard task, and we are sure you can and will do so. "Where there's a will there's a way." We are sure that you have the will. The way is easily found.

At a meeting of the Senior Class on November 7th the sample pin presented by President Floyd, was chosen as the class pin, after correction and modification. The design of the pin consists of the seal of the University, the inner portion being white enamel to show off the head of Washington and the letters to better advantage. The outer circle of the seal is enameled blue, with gold letters. Surrounding the seal is a band of dull finished gold, having a wavy edge. On this band the words "National College of Pharmacy, '08" are engraved. Altogether the pin is very neat. Every member of the class has ordered a pin, which will be ready by December 15.

The question of a joint smoker with the Juniors and Freshmen was discussed and the President was asked to report after consultation with the officers of the classes of '09 and '10.

President Floyd has enhanced his dignified appearance by putting on glasses. Steele no longer has the "four-eyed" monopoly in our class.

Spencer is the microscopist of the class. He can see everything through his microscope. I wonder if he can  $C_2H_5OH$ ?

Deming's soul is full of melody and it bursts forth periodically in the same old whistled tune. Pardon us, he has learned another song and added it to his collection. "I'm here because, I'm here be—" Oh, sugar! How sweet (?) it sounds!

FRESHMEN '10

A Halloween party, at which many members of the Class of '10 were present, (also one member of '09), was held at the residence of Miss Strobel, '10, on Thursday last. The freshman yell was heard at intervals during the evening.

Miss Richardson, '10, rendered several piano selections, accompanied by two voices, the owners of which saw that the company felt much relieved when they had concluded.

Too bad Davis could not find a partner to play pillow with him. Always looking for something soft!

Won't someone buy Morgan a doggie? He seemed very much attached to one Halloween.

The Junior Class were making preparations to meet us Halloween, but failed to locate us. No doubt we would have been glad to see them—only—

HOSPITAL NOTES.

By O. Liver Smyth.

Dr. Cabell's demonstration in Obstetrics at the University Hospital are about to begin. They are always looked forward to with enthusiasm and interest, as Dr. Cabell has a happy faculty of clearly presenting a difficult subject.

The eyes of the world's clinicians are directed towards recent experiments made by Prof. Rudolph Emmerich, of Munich, who has a new remedy for diphtheria, called Pyocyanose. It is produced from the assimilation of B. Pyocyanus in liquid cultures. This substance is blown into the patient's throat and "completely destroys the Diphtheria Bacillus." Practitioners on this side of the pond await further and more authentic reports as to its efficacy.

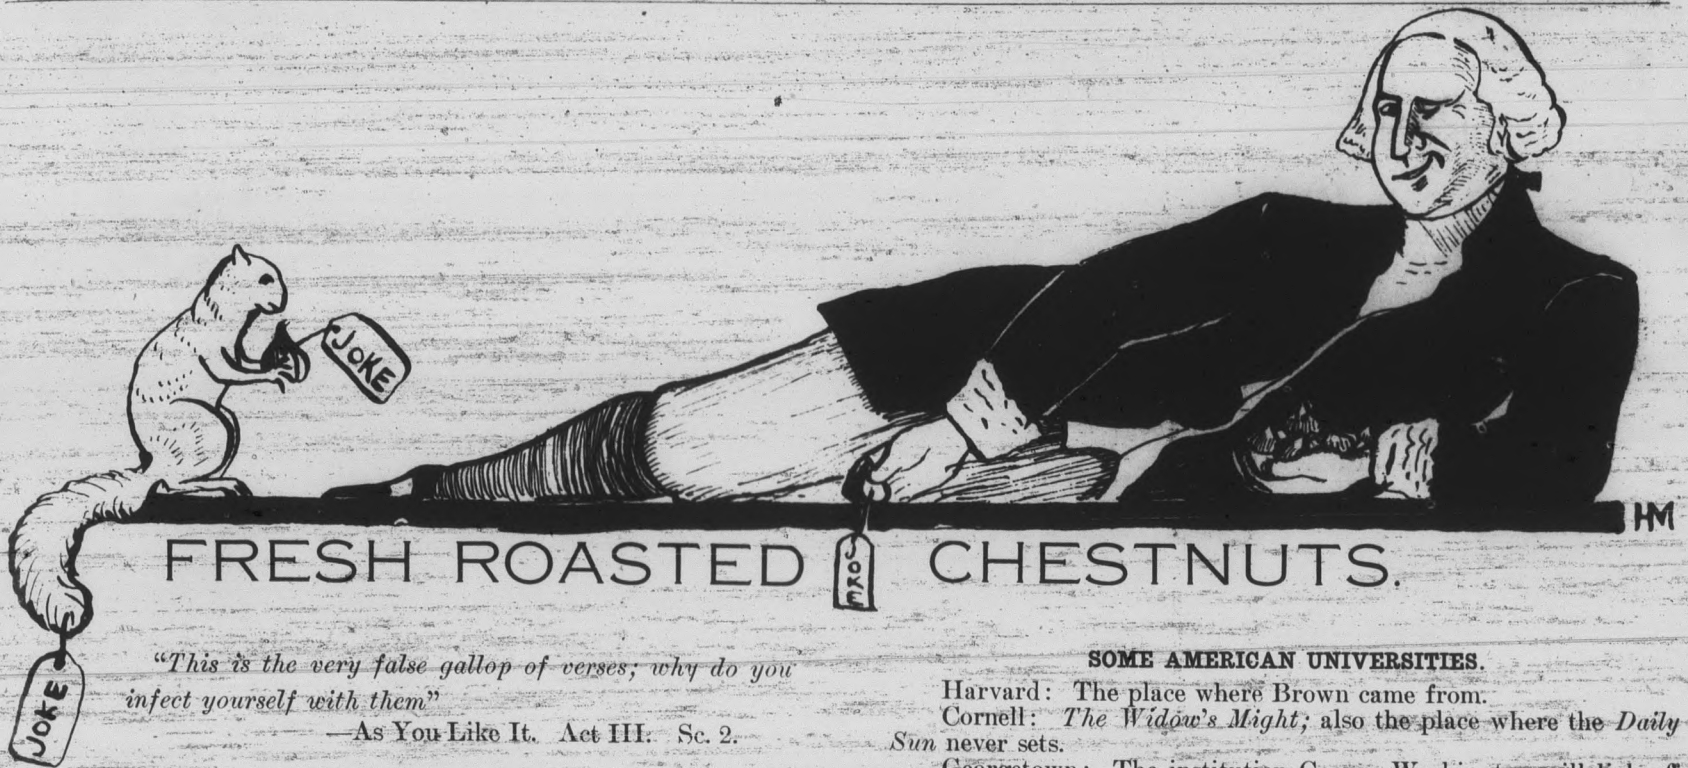

A few of our "grades" doing dispensary work were discussing the recent football controversy with Georgetown. It is the consensus of opinion that "it looks like a 'laydown' on George Washington's part unless they make Georgetown live up to its contract." Are we to understand that Graduate Manager Wilson has allowed Georgetown to bully him into seeing things their way?

Geo. Washington is well represented in West Virginia practice by such names as Whitney, Fitch, Slater and Mason. From recent reports they are doing well.

Dr. Shands' clinic at Emergency on an intra-capsular fracture of the femur was well attended by Seniors and Juniors. Dr. Shands performed a very tedious operation, assisted by Drs. Glenn Jones and Heflebower. Dr. Waring, '07, gave the anesthetic, while Harry Ong, '08, did great traction work on the patient.

Dr. C. A. Harrison, formerly externe at George Washington University Hospital, but who has been in the West for the past seven months, has returned to accept the position of Medical Interne. We are glad to see the doctor's smiling face again and we feel assured that the work of the sections assigned to the medical side will be made doubly interesting and pleasant by association with so affable and enthusiastic a gentleman.

"This is the very false gallop of verses; why do you infect yourself with them?"

THE LAST FLY OF SUMMER.

'Tis the last fly of summer left buzzing alone,
He defies me to kill him in bantering tone,
He lights on the butter and then disappears
To be back in a moment and hum 'round my ears.

I determine to kill him, the worst of his tribe,
But he slips out of danger to taunt and to gibe.
At last I have caught him, the villainous pest,
And I chuckle to think he's forever at rest.

Nevermore will he crawl on the tip of my nose,
Nevermore will he flit out of reach of my blows,
Now he's dead—so with fiendish delight I can own
'Twas the last fly of summer left buzzing alone. —J.

"Now that elections are over," observed the meek man, "the defeated candidates will view with regret the prospect of eating Thanksgiving turkey strongly flavored with crow."

At a recent meeting of some students, Professor Willoughby, of the new College of Political Sciences, repeated a definition of a gentleman's club, as given once by an English bishop. "A gentleman's club," declared the prelate, "is a place where the women cease from troubling and the wicked are at rest."

The Harvard Lampoon says that "constant wetting of the whistle always insures a toot." What we would like to know is, how Lampy found this out.

A runner who hailed from Dubuque
Was chased half a mile by a spuke;
He did it at that

In one minute flat,
But the A. A. U. said 'twas a fluque.

Henry Watterson, the famous editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is said to be an inveterate punster. According to a New York paper he was once asked to make a pun on the constellations. "By Gemini," he retorted, "I Cancer."

Absence makes the plunks come easier.

Since Van Ness Park has been sold, the Mall is no longer a good name for our Annual. If, however, the editor proposes to do much knocking in this year's issue, the Maul might be useful as well as appropriate.

Princeton: The school that built an artificial lake in order to be in the swim.

There is a professor named Hough
Whom freshmen think terribly rough.

But the reason's quite plain,
They are awfully vain,
And don't study LOGIC enough. —J. L. M.

The other day in the class on Domestic Relations, Professor Blair asked whether any misfortune or loss of wealth after marriage released either husband or wife from their duties as set forth by law. The legal light who volunteered an answer said: "Oh, not at all. They married each other for bad or worse."

THE EDITOR.

Have you seen him in his sanctum
With his feet upon the desk?
How he scowls when you approach him,
Puts his fingers in his vest?

With the air of high and mighty
And a look that's meant to scorn,
As you hand him contributions
For The Hatchet to adorn.

Then he takes his great blue pencil,
While with trembling you await,
As he scans your contribution
And decides upon its fate.

And first he looks your verses through
And rips and mars and chops them,
Then calmly turns his chair around
And in his basket drops them. —D. A. B.

After Wednesday Assembly a Senior remarked: "That was a fine speech 'Prexie' made, wasn't it?" A Freshman said: "Who is Prexie?" "Why, Doctor Needham," replied the Senior in surprise. "Oh," answered the Fresh. in a dubious sort of way, "is Prexie his first name?"

EDWIN A. SWINGLE, Class Editor.

After several preliminary meetings, the Class of 1912 finally got down to business and on October 18th, held a class meeting which adopted a form of constitution. At this time the officers of the class were elected as follows: C. W. Garlock, President; J. C. Dyer, Vice-President; W. O. Bailey, Secretary-Treasurer; Edwin A. Swingle, Historian, and Edw. Fontaine, Sergeant-at-Arms. Later, on the 21st, Mr. Swingle was also elected Class Editor. According to the constitution, the class has an executive committee composed of five members: The President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, and Messrs. I. B. Hunt and Charles A. Fisher. The class is getting down into good running order now, and great things may be expected from us.

This issue of The Hatchet is the Rooters' number. This will in all probability be a prominent feature of The Hatchet. It will be devoted to the publication of songs and yells and the stirring up of interest among the student body in the important matter of giving our athletic teams the support which they deserve and without which they cannot achieve much success. The Hatchet urges every member of the College to give this matter their support. The University has the right to expect the members of the College to furnish a large part of the rooting at the games. The College ought to see to it that it has a majority on the new Rooters Club.

At last the great and long expected struggle has come and the sounds of the conflict have died away. The great question of the supremacy of the under classes of the Columbian College and the Washington College of Engineering has been settled and the fragments that remained have been gathered up. On Friday afternoon, November 9, at Van Ness Park the Freshman and the Sophomores of the College met in their annual football game and at the end of the struggle the score stood ten to nothing in favor of the Sophomores. The game was played with unusual snap and vigor for a class contest, and although they were being outplayed the Freshies stuck to their colors pluckily until the last blow of the whistle.

Owing to the Freshman dance, which is to be held on Friday evening, Nov. 15, the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Enosinian Society has been postponed until Friday, Nov. 22.

The class of 1910 was the recipient of a souvenir post card from Honolulu, Hawaii. The sender, Mr. Nelson Johnson, is on his way to China as the result of a successful examination for the consular service.

BASKET BALL.

Manager Biddle would like to hear from all students who expect to try for basket ball team, when, if any place, they have played before and how much they have played. This does not mean that the manager does not want to hear from those who have never played because he most decidedly does. Put communications in the students' letter-box in Columbian College.

A second meeting of the Sophomore Class was held Wednesday, November 6, in Room 26, at which the usual number were present. The "usual number" does not imply that the attendance was at all large. This fact is mentioned for it seems as though the ten or twelve who are always present should have some credit for standing by the class, while the majority are equally faithful in staying away.

The first question discussed was that of a class dance, and it was finally decided that a dance should be given the first Friday in December and that only such members of the different classes who had paid their class dues should be entitled to attend. The following committee for the dance was appointed by the president: Miss Brackett, Miss Alden, Mr. Eaton, Mr. Schrader, Mr. Ball. There is no doubt of the efficiency of the committee and the only thing to prevent the dance being a great success is the possibility of some of the members of the class not paying their dues. But let it be remembered that any member of the class who fails to pay his dues this year will not be privileged to vote next year. In order to enforce this a committee is to be appointed to draw up several constitutional provisions.

COMING TO THE THEATERS.

"Coming Thro' the Rye," the musical comedy success, will be presented at the Columbia Theater next week. It comes with the original company of 80 comedians, singers, and dancers. The comedy element of the piece is said to be bright. It was written by George V. Hobart. The musical score, which was contributed by A. Baldwin Sloane, is not only tuneful, but it is jingling and catchy—just the kind of music which is so popular nowadays. Mr. Frank Lalor is the principal comedian of the company.

A week of repertoire is in store for the patrons of the New National Theater next week, where Blanche Walsh will appear Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and at the Wednesday matinee in the new Clyde Fitch play, "The Straight Road." Much has been heard of this play in Washington, the so-called "Madonna scene" of the third act having caused considerable comment during the run at the Astor Theater, New York. Miss Walsh will appear as Moll O'Hara, a girl of the East Side slums of New York, a type of character that she is admirably suited to portray. The latter half of the week, including Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and the Saturday matinee, Miss Walsh will appear in one of the greatest roles of her extensive repertoire—that of Hattie Frelander, the eldest daughter of a Russian Jew, in "The Kreutzer Sonata."

Another new play, one that promises to be one of the big sensations of the present theatrical season, Channing Pollock's "The Secret Orchard," will come to the Belasco Theater next Monday week, direct from the Garrick Theater, Chicago, where it is said to have proved a veritable sensation.

"The Secret Orchard" was "tried out in stock" by the Hunter-Bradford players at Parson's Theater, Hartford, last August, and scored so remarkable a hit that its success now with a specially selected cast of favorite metropolitan actors and with special stage settings, is a foregone conclusion. A particularly strong company will present it here, including Vincent Serrano, Adelaide Prince, Walter Hale, Olive May, Frank C. Bangs, Edward R. Mawson, Henrietta Vaders, F. Newton Lindo, Josephine Victor, Edwin See, Ida Lewis, Harry McAuliffe, etc.

Announced for one week, with the usual matinees, commencing Monday, November 18, at the New Academy, we are to have "Buster Brown," the musical comedy skit based on R. F. Outcault's famous cartoons. Incidentally it may be remarked that this is the only authentic and authorized version of "Buster Brown." This season the name part of the piece is done by Master Rosen, a miniature comedian of much merit. The play is offered with all new scenery and costumes, while the music and songs are new, popular and up-to-date.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms" is the title of the play selected for presentation by the Kathryn Purnell Stock Company at the Majestic Theater next week. It is generally familiar to theatergoers, and has always proved an attractive offering. It will be produced, according to the management, with a wealth of pretty scenic and mechanical effects, and with all of the favorites in the stock company in suitable parts.

Chase's next week will have a bill including William Courtleigh, the distinguished actor, and his company in the Lambs' gambol success, "Peaches," written by George V. Hobart; Bessie Wynn, the bonnie girlish singing comedienne, who charmed with her dainty coquetry in "Babes in Toyland;" Salerno, the great European occultist! the Camille Comedy Trio, Felix and Caire, Elsie Faye, Bissett and Miller, Ferrell Brothers, and "The Fortune Teller" motion pictures.
